

Masanori NAITO

*International Politics,
Social Geography
Dean, Professor,
Doshisha University*

Masanori Naito is currently a professor and dean of the Graduate School of Global Studies at Doshisha University. He also serves as a representative for the Asia-Pacific region on the Scientific Advisory Committee to UNESCO Social and Human Science Sector/MOST, and is a member of the Scientific Council of Japan.

Masanori Naito's current research interests include Intercivilizational Relations between Islam and the West, Islamic Movements of the Immigrants in Western Europe, and European Union-Turkey Relations.

He has written extensively on these subjects. His major publications in English include «Awakening as Muslims in Europe: Strained Relations between two Citizens» (S. Yamauchin, R. Oshiba, and K. Ochiai, eds., Europe: Strained Relations between two Citizens, 2006), «Between Tolerance and Intolerance: How can we achieve Cultural Pluralism with Muslims?» (Proceedings of the International Symposium, Cultural Diversity and Globalization, The Arab-Japanese Experience, UNESCO, 2005).

10 avril 2015, 10h-12h

After the Charlie Hebdo terror attacks: How can we find ways for co-existence with Muslims based on "incommensurability" ?

EHESS, salle Jean-Pierre Vernant, 190 av. de France, 75013 Paris

13 avril 2015, 10h-12h

"Islamic State" : What should we consider sensitiveness of surrounding countries ?

EHESS, salle Jean-Pierre Vernant, 190 av. de France, 75013 Paris

13 avril 2015, 17h-19h

Les politiques moyen-orientales de l'AKP dans le cadre de la table ronde « La Turquie de l'AKP »

CERI-Science Po, salle de conférences, 56, Rue Jacob, 75006 Paris

20 avril 2015, 10h-12h

Rencontre avec les étudiants en master et en thèse sur les études sur le monde musulman au Japon

EHESS, salle Jean-Pierre Vernant, 190 av. de France, 75013 Paris